Dear Suja Menon,

This is to follow up the conversation I had with you a week ago.

One of the institute comes under the sports Ministry is National Institute of Sports Science (NISS) and presently they are searching for a Resource person to lecture advance coaching course for Kabaddhi. Even though NISS would like to find a lecturer from India, they don't have much information to pin point a specific person. Therefore, I would like to check whether it is possible for you to disseminate this request amongst relevant parties (Sports Ministry, Sports Federation governing body, Kabaddhi federation, Universities where coaching been taught, etc.) within India so that we can locate best suitable candidate.

I am herewith forwarding details about the requirement (please note said course been on hold until we find a suitable Resource Person – Lecturer). Furthermore, please note food, accommodation, air tickets (up and down) and lecturer payments will be provided by the NISS.

About NISS

<http://www.niss.gov.lk/index.html>

National Institute of Sports Science (NISS) is the premier institute of sports education in Sri Lanka. It was established under the provisions of the sports law No. 25, 1973 and named "Sports School" with its inauguration in 1978 under the Ministry of Parliamentary Affairs and Sports. It was reorganized in 1996 under the provisions of an Act of Parliament, which amended the original sports law and renamed as the National Institute of Sports Science. The major academic activities of the institute include Diploma in Sports Science (One Year), Advanced Diploma in Coaching for sports coaches (Six months), Certificate course in Sport Management and short term courses in sport coaching. Apart from that, the institute conducts physical fitness programs, workshops, conferences and lectures based on demands and requirements of the sports field. NISS is supposed to be upgraded to a fully-fledged Degree awarding institute in collaboration with a local or foreign university in the future.
